DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of amendment filed on March 23, 2009. Claims 11-13 are now pending as amended. The claim rejections indicated in the previous Office action dated December 23, 2008 have been withdrawn in view of the claim amendment made by applicant. A new rejection is made to address the amended claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Farber (WO 01/85151) in view of Murakata et al. (US 4877776 A).

Farber teaches a method of treating psoriasis by topically administering compositions comprising K252a compound, an NGF inhibitor, in a vehicle/excipients. See p. 5, line 24-p. 6, line 4; instant claims 11, 13.

Farber does not mention treating the skin disorders of the instant claims.

Murakata teaches K252 compounds are well known anti-tumor agents. The reference indicates that the compound inhibits protein kinase C, which in turn inhibits cell growth activities and carcinogenic mechanism. See col. 1, lines 11 – 57.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the present invention to modify the teachings of Farber by using the topical K252a compositions to treat skin tumors, as motivated by Murakata, because 1) Farber teaches the NGF inhibitor can be successfully administered topically to treat a skin disorder, and 2) Murakata teaches the same compound has an effective anti-tumor activity.

Farber further teaches that phototherapy is typically used when topical treatments have failed. See p. 2, lines 17- 28. While the reference does not specifically teach to administer the topical composition comprising K252 compound in combination with PUVA or photodynamic treatment, it is viewed obvious that a skilled artisan would have been motivated to combine the topical treatment of the anti-tumor agent with PUVA or photodynamic treatment in expectation of obtaining enhanced treatment effects.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

No claims are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
